1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-7, 9-23, 42, 43, 46 and 47, drawn to a method of inhibiting neoplastic cellular proliferation and/or transformation of a mammalian breast or ovarian cell comprising delivering to said mammalian cell a composition comprising a PTTG-C related polynucleotide complexed with a cellular uptake agent for treatment of neoplastic proliferation, classifiable in classes 514 and 536, subclasses 44 and 23.5, respectively.
- II. Claim 8, drawn to a method of inhibiting neoplastic cellular proliferation and/or transformation of a mammalian breast or ovarian cell comprising delivering to said mammalian cell a composition comprising an antisense oligonucleotide complexed with a cellular uptake agent for treatment of neoplastic proliferation, classifiable in classes 514 and 536, subclasses 44 and 24.5, respectively.
- III. Claims 24-41, 44, 45, 48 and 49, drawn to a method of inhibiting neoplastic cellular proliferation and/or transformation of a mammalian breast or ovarian cell comprising delivering to said mammalian cell a composition comprising a PTTG-C related peptide, or a biologically functional fragment thereof, complexed with a cellular uptake agent for treatment of neoplastic proliferation, classifiable in classes 514 and 530, subclasses 2 and 300, respectively.
- 2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Application/Control Number: 09/730,469

Art Unit: 1633

Inventions I-III are unrelated to each other. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together, or they have different modes of operation, or they have different functions, or they have different effects. (M.E.P.. § 806.04, M.E.P.. § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions have different modes of operation and have different functions. Inventions I-III are distinct because they are drawn to materially distinct methods using different materials that having different chemical structures, different physical properties and different biological functions: polynucleotides or antisense oligonucleotides, and peptides. These methods also differ at least in method steps, reagents and/or dosages used, schedules used, response variables, and criteria for success. Method of inhibiting neoplastic cellular proliferation and/or transformation by using a PTTG-C polynucleotide requires different technical considerations and different modes of action than method of inhibiting neoplastic cellular proliferation and/or transformation by using antisense oligonucleotide or peptides. The differences between Inventions I-III are further underscored by their different classification and independent search status. Thus, they are not obvious variants and deemed patentably distinct.

Upon election of an invention, a further restriction is required as follows:

Since the SEQ ID Nos recited in the claims of the present application are derived from different species: SEQ ID Nos. 9 and 10 (human), SEQ ID Nos. 16 and 18 (rat), SEQ ID Nos. 17 and 19 (murine), they represent different and distinct DNA sequences derived from different genes. The chemical structures of different genes are different from each other and their gene product functions also differ from each other. Thus, the SEQ ID Nos recited in the claims of the present application are patentably distinct from each other and require separate search. Applicant is required to elect a single SEQ ID No. from the group of SEQ ID Nos. 10, 18 and 19 or the group of SEQ ID Nos. 9, 16 and 17 for consideration by examiner.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37) CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
